forming the Police—Silva's House

Believed to Have Fled With Her Husband—Maj. Rainwater Offered Assistance.*"I believe that there is no cloud so black but what it has a silver lining," said Maj. C. C. Rainwater this morning. "I have just opened the mail, and the stack of letters you see here," and the Major pointed to some thirty-five or forty letters piled up on his desk, "are letters from friends offering me all the financial aid I need to again start in business."Maj. Rainwater, now that the smoke has cleared away, talks more freely and is willing to discuss the failure of the well known firm of which he was the head man in capital.""The capital stock of the firm was $20,000," said he. "On this capital Silva has stolen over $100,000. How much over we do not know and will be unable to ascertain for several days. We could have continued in business and run along at least two years more had not Silva's stealings been shown up. When we discovered that he was short he advised us not to assign and said: 'You have got capital enough to get along without assigning.'"We might have done so, but I considered that it would be a very dishonorable act to go on getting credit knowing that we were not in a condition financially to meet our maturing debts. The trouble was our credit was too good. Had we not been thought so well of all over the country we might have discovered this whole affair before.""Major, will you state why this man was not arrested?"*"I don't know. In the first place my duty was to save as much money as I could for the creditors and I had to induce him to sign over his property, which was between $15,000 and $20,000. This had to be done for the benefit of the creditors. Persuasion and not force had to be used in the case. Suppose he had been arrested with this amount of money? A good lawyer would have taken the money—now you know the law's delay.
He would have had $10,000 of the firm's money to fight us with. So he was placed under surveillance.""How did he come to get away?""I don't know. He was in St. Louis and signed the transfers to the property twenty-four hours before the whole affair was made public. I do not know whether he is in St. Louis out of it. That he got away was a surprise to me."NO DICKER MADE."There was no dicker made whereby the property was to be turned over and Silva given a start?" asked the reporter, such a rumor being current on the street.*"No, sir, emphatically no," replied Maj.
Rainwater indignantly. "We will spend money to prosecute him. We held out no promises to him of any kind.""How do you account for his wife's refusing to sign up till the last moment and then signing away all her right and title?""I don't think she knew at first how deeply he was involved, and that the penitentiary was staring him in the face. We made no promises to her.""Do you think she knows where he is?""I do. I think he has told her where he was going if he has left town."*"Major, there is a story going around to the

A STRIKE ORDER DISOBeyed

St. Paul Street-Car Men Refuse to Go Out for the Union.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 25.—At 2 o'clock this morning, at a meeting of the Street Railway Employees' Union, it was decided to order a general strike on all lines in St. Paul and Minneapolis this morning. This would leave the company with but a few men and would effectively tie up the Twin Cities.

The order does not seem to have had much effect. Four out of twelve lines were at one in partial operation, from one-quarter to one-half the usual cars being run. Of the men at work, from 10 to 15 per cent are men who refuse to go out. In Minneapolis the cars are running as usual.

FEEDING HUNGRY WORKERS.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 25.—One hundred men interviewed the Chief of Police through their leader, Jacob Bower, yesterday. They had just arrived from San Francisco where they had been camped on the sand lots and fed by the Salvation Army. They were trying to reach Arizona where they expected to find work on some canals and ditches being built there.

They said that they be allowed to solicit food from some of the bakers, grocers and butchers for food enough to last them across the country. They were men of every trade and abiding citizens. The Chief granted their request and gave $1 in money. The officers divided into four squads of twenty-five men each and canvassed the town. They said the Salvation Army is feeding 700 men there.

MONDAY'S MEETING.

MONDAY morning the Executive Committee of the St. Louis Association of Retail Druggists, of which Mr. Thomas Layton is President, will hold a meeting to take decisive action on the agreement entered into by the wholesale houses, effective Nov. 1. As to just what will be accomplished it is hard to determine, inasmuch as many of the down-town druggists sanction the steps taken by the wholesale houses. Those whose places of business are farther removed from the center of the city, however, are very bitter against the agreement and threaten to boycott the home institutions and patronize houses in Cincinnati, Chicago and Louisville unless the St. Louis druggists do the same.

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

F. A. Drew Pays $8500 a Foot for South Twelfth Street Property.

F. A. Drew of the Drew Glass Co. made another important purchase of Twelfth street property this morning. The sale was made through the agency of John Maguire & Co. and Joseph P. Whyte, the former concern representing Mr. Drew and the latter representing Mr. A. A. Chouteau, the grantor. The property purchased by Mr. Drew is house No. 202 South Twelfth street, opposite the city hall. It is a brick structure showing evidences of old age and long usage. The old building still brings a fair rental, however, and is likely to do so for some time to come.

The property has a frontage of 26 feet 6 inches by a depth of 15 feet and the price paid was $10,000, or a little over $400 a foot. The property is from the first to the last one of the first men to erect a handsome business structure on Twelfth street. He purchased Mr. Chouteau's property as an investment.

Haydel & Son report the sale of 24x142 feet of ground on the south side of Westminster place, between 10th and 11th and Warner streets, for $8,000 for perjury. He is accused of having sworn falsely to an affidavit in order to secure an attachment for $7,000 against the Star Furniture Co.

SALINA, Kan., Oct. 25.—The paper mill at this place has completed an important experiment to determine the practicability of manufacturing paper from wild sunflowers. The test was a complete success. Several tons of the weeds were made into paper, which is far superior to straw paper, the fiber of the sunflower product being as tough and pliable as rag paper. The mill is now buying sunflowers and proposes to make sunflower paper a specialty, as it can be produced at a cost of 10 cents a pound, the lowest of the kind ever made. Last evening the Daily Republican run its entire edition on the sunflower paper.

It is true that the Ways and Means Committee propose to retain the duty on soft coal in the interest of the West Virginia miners, the people who voted for raw materials will be bitterly disappointed and are likely to polish up their knives for use in the next election.

ONE of the most useful lessons of the long and painful struggle over the repeal of the Sherman act is found in the troubous experiences caused by a legislative blunder. Neither men nor parties willing to sacrifice principle and resort to cowardly makeshifts can be trusted with the control of the Government. A blunder in legislation is as bad in its effects as a crime.

THE Republicans hope to get credit with the country by voting for the repeal bill. But this will be only a confession that they made a huge blunder in passing the Sherman law, and the votes of the silver Republicans against repeal will show that some of them have not yet recovered from the insanity of which that atrocious measure was a manifestation.

A REVIVAL of office seekers' hopes and activity may be looked for in the near future. A good many changes are demanded and they can be made without violating any of the President's civil service principles or hurting the feelings of anybody except, perhaps, the small muggwumps, who are inebriated by their own over-refined righteousness.

DAVID E. HILL is recovering lost ground with amazing rapidity. When he entered the Senate friend and foe agreed that he had made a mistake and that he would not, and could not, be anything but a lay figure or a wire-puller in that body. He has turned out one of the best of debaters. He has shown a grasp of public questions second to none, and appears as a man of broad views and statesmanlike qualities. If he continues as he has begun he will give that Western man a lively tussle in 1896.

THE business of denouncing other men's religious opinions and churches is as weighed a business as can be found, but Lecture Slattery, who is engaged in this poor business and was nearly mobbed last night, is entitled to the protection of the law and to the privilege of having his say without injury or molestation. The people who attempt by mob violence to silence the tirades he delivers are not only disgracing themselves, but they are giving him the very advertisement that will best promote his money-making schemes.

THE report that the Ways and Means Committee is having trouble with representatives of the six states who are racking their brains for a solution of the question are working on the erroneous theory that it is necessary and advantageous for the United States to get control of Hawaii. It is unnecessary, unwise and disadvantageous. It would require more ships, men and money to guard the islands than they are worth. In war or peace they would be a liability instead of a resource, a burden required to build levees.

WHAT of the Other Fellows?

From the Chicago Herald.

JAMES J. VAN ALLEN has got his appointment all right, and in his joy at being confirmed by the Senate he is going to get married to a Providence girl. This is well. Life for Mr. Van Allen is one long round of beer and skittles, succeeded by skittles and beer. But it amid the general rejoicing—perhaps legitimate rejoicing would be better, come to think of it—amid the limited rejoicing, then, is it not timely to rise and inquire what has become of certain other Jacksonian Democrats who aspired to office? Where, for instance, is Nash Buncombe of Florida? In what Med-issippi dreaming the happy hours away “Middies’ruh” is in reality just as rich as it ever was, still inviting British capital and more careful management than that which has wrecked the first company. The Colonel is himself inclined to this view, and there may, after all, be another chapter in the history of Cumberland Gap.

MONOPOLISTS have three different methods of working their schemes. The first is to form a pool or alliance, each corporation preserving its own existence; the second is for the individuals composing the corporations to exchange shares or buy into each other's concerns so that the directories of all will be practically identical. The third is consolidation. The first of these being obnoxious to the law is not so often resorted to as it was a few years ago. The second is a favorite method, although that too is unlawful in some States. The new coal combine will probably work in this way. The third, however, is law proof, and towards that all combinations are tending. It will take a great deal of study to defeat the purposes of these gentlemen when the third stage is reached.

THE introduction of the German carpenter into America has proven a disastrous enterprise. IT IS A NIGHTMARE.

that is What Politicians Say of the Rabid A. P. A.

PROBABILITY OF A CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATION OF IT.

Fantastic Tales Told by its Supporters Against the Catholics — Strength of the Organization in Detroit — What a Cincinnati Delegation Had to Say to Congressman Caldwell About Mr. Satoll.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.—If the House on Monday decides to adopt the resolution offered yesterday by Wadcock of Michigan challenging the title of Representative in the election of the Eighth Michigan District to his seat a Congressional investigation of the new political society known as the American Protective Association will be the result. The A. P. A. has figured its politics for several years, especially in the States of Ohio, Michigan, Western New York, Illinois and Wisconsin. It is a secret, anti-Catholic organization, and has in Detroit and in other cities completely upset the calculations of politicians. Its power has been demonstrated on more than one occasion, and it had become a nightmare to politicians in some of the States mentioned. Mr. Wadcock declines to make the memorial which contains the charges against the A. P. A. public until it has been formally presented to the House on Monday. Speaking of the organization, however, he said that it had caused the political revolution in Detroit last fall.

"It is dominated," he said, "in Michigan at least by Canadian Orangemen of the most ignorant class. In Saginaw, Bay City, Grand Rapids, and the cities of the State generally it is especially powerful. In a way it is something like the old 'Know Nothing' organization which directed its energies against all foreigners, particularly Catholics. This is exclusively an anti-Catholic organization and differs from the old 'Know Nothing' party in being largely composed of aliens. It claims to control most of the cities in Michigan, besides Toledo, Buffalo and other cities. The most incendiary doctrines are promulgated by the leaders of the organization. In my district I have seen alleged photographs of the Catholic University in this city representing it as a great fort dotted with loopholes, in which they say the Pope's army takes refuge when it begins its campaign of conquest. So much excitement has been caused by these seculars that a reign of terror has been inaugurated, and the members of the organization have armed themselves to repel the invasion of the people. Some time ago I saw a circular, a copy of which I have in my possession, decrying the Pope, and calling for a Catholic celebration for the Discovery of America by a Catholic, and on Sept. 15 all the Catholics in this country were to arm and slaughter their Protestant neighbors."

Representative Caldwell of Cincinnati said that a few days ago while he was at home a delegation from the A. P. A. had called and informed him that Mr. Satoll was to be formally recognized by this Government as the Pope's ambassador, and that he was to be sent to the Pope. He said that the report was untrue, but the committee were certain that the information was correct, and he was asked what he thought on the question. He says that similar reports came from various parts of Ohio. If the investigation is ordered it is expected that the A. P. A. will be called to account and a report will be made with reference to this new political organization.

A. P. A. IN ST. LOUIS.

Strength and Claims of the Organization — Its Effect in Elections.

The A. P. A. took a prominent part in St. Louis politics for the first time at the last School Board election. When the contest was over the leaders in the organization boasted that almost all the candidates whom they favored were elected. At the municipal election held last evening the A. P. A. made a strong effort to influence the result. The candidates who were Catholics or who were believed to be under Catholic influence were marked for scratching. The returns did not indicate that the organization accomplished its aim to any considerable extent. It is the prevalent belief that the A. P. A. will try to manifest its strength in the approaching School Board election, when the election for the lodges of the A. P. A. in St. Louis, and the spokesmen of the organization claim a strength of 5,000.

It was proven to the witnesses that Kellner was the author of the disturbance. The returns did not indicate that the organization accomplished its aim to any considerable extent. CORBETT EASILY.
Bob Fitzsimmons Selects the Winner of the Big Fight.

MITCHELL WILL NOT LAST LONG BEFORE THE BIG CALIFORNIAN.

The Middleweight Champion Thinks Peter Jackson Can Defeat Either and Is Willing to Make the Attempt. His Local Aquatic, Cycling and Turf Gossip—Sporting Notes.

Under his own signature Bob Fitzsimmons, the middleweight champion of the world, discusses the coming Corbett-Mitchell fight and the question of superiority between the champion and Peter Jackson, in the following interesting manner.

"I think it is simply absurd to consider Mitchell anyway near a winner. Compare their records: Mitchell has only fought two finish fights, which were both draws. He fought Jack Burke on a race track in England and they afterward fought numerous draws in England and in this country. When Fritchard met Burke he smothered him in three rounds; then Jim Hall goes over to England and puts Fritchard out in four rounds, having beaten him twice before. Take this on Mitchell, and what does he really class? When I say he cannot stand before me for eight rounds I think there is some logic in my argument. Now, look over Corbett's record: When he was only an amateur he bested Jack Burke in eight rounds easily, and on three occasions whipped Joe Choryski; he outpointed Jake Kilkain with perfect ease, easily defeated Dominick McCaffrey, who told me he did not land on Corbett, while he could easily outpoint Mitchell and outpunch him. His long fight with Peter Jackson places Corbett, in my estimation, on a higher pinnacle than his defeat of Sullivan. I feel fully confident that I could have whipped Sullivan in three rounds the night that he met Corbett."

"I predict that Corbett will come out of his fight with Mitchell but very little punishment—not even a black eye. He will jab the Englishman constantly with his long left to keep him out of harm's way. Mitchell has never fought to a finish under Queenberry rules. He is a far better London rule general than he is a Queenberry. At the latter game a man of Mitchell's build has as good, if not better, chance than one of Corbett's physique."

"In Corbett's battle with Jackson, which is to take place next May, my opinion, it will end in the defeat of the present champion. Jackson I consider the best heavyweight in the world. There was a job somewhere when they met in San Francisco, but I am quite positive that Jackson would have defeated Corbett on that occasion. He is a big fellow—bigger than Corbett in every way—just as clever, and he can punch a mighty sight harder. Jackson has fought many hard finish fights under Queenberry rules."

"I will fight Corbett or Mitchell at any time, and feel fully confident of beating either of them, but I won't go out of my class for Choryski; neither will I meet Peter Jackson, whom I consider the best heavyweight in the world."

The cash prize boxing tournament, which is recently reorganized, St. Louis Club, is causing considerable favorable comment in local pugilistic circles. In New York, Brooklyn and Chicago exhibitions of this kind are given weekly during the winter season under the auspices of the swell athletic clubs. The Chicago Amateur Athletic Association held one at the Racquet Club, and the Modoc Club-house and several lively and interesting contests took place between some of the best professional talents in the "Windy City." Of course, the pugilistic contests are not limited to the bouts. If the Crib Club management can induce the local authorities to grant a license for the pugilistic contests to be held in the Crib Club, the New York, Brooklyn and Chicago authorities do not object to exhibitions of this kind, when managed properly. The World's Fair, the Fall Training School, and in the evening, Prince Nokonsky will deliver a lecture. Wednesday the Manual Training School will be visited and a car-ridge ride taken through the parks.

The two champions, Jim Corbett and A. A. Zimmerman met at Ashbury Park recently and Corbett said to the cycle champion: "Zim, I don't you play for the 'stuz,' like I do?"

"Because the League does not allow cash prizes," was Zim's answer.

"Then I could go where it is allowed," said Corbett.

But Arthur Augustus only shook his head and said: "I don't like the League," he said to his friend, "Kid" Wheeler, who tried it a year, and while he has done well, winning nearly all the firsts, he has to ride on his rims when that organization quits."

RAILWAY SURGEONS ADJOURN.

Officers Elected and Memphis Selected as the Next Place of Meeting.

The business of the first annual session of the Southwestern Association of Railway Surgeons was concluded last evening. Yesterday afternoon the surgeons repaired to the Alexian Brothers' Hospital to attend a clinic to be conducted by Dr. Lutz. Dr. Lutz opened his clinic with a half-hour's talk. He said he would end with Dr. Koschik, who had in the morning advocated ether instead of chloroform as an anesthetic. Dr. Lutz said that from his own experience he would be compelled to prefer chloroform to ether, as the width of the distance from the removal of the teeth to the removal of the carboxylic acid in the blood was so great that the ether would not be effective.

The closing address in the special course on "The Treatment of Diseases of the Eye" was delivered at 4:30 to-morrow by Dr. C. S. Stier.

RAILWAY SURGEONS ADJOURN.

RAILROAD TROOPS.

The Coming Race between the Western and Modoc Crews Will Settle the Matter.

The interest in the coming race between the barge crews of the Modoc and Western Rivers is now fully decided on the river in the near future is created a great stir among the oarsmen of the competing crews. The Westerns recently received a new barge, and the boat being weak was strengthened by putting a new gunwale around the sides. In doing that naturally the oarslocks had to be extended. The Modocs hearing of this made a big howl and claimed that the oarslocks were not extended to set the example themselves in the barge they are rowing now by extending the oarslocks without any gunwale to hold them in the river. The Modocs were right, however, as it is said to take a six-inch skid and put a light gunwale on the outside and a skid around the rigging. This does not suit the oarsmen of the Westerns.

One of the latter said this morning: "If the Modocs think the outriggers, as they call it, on our boat is going to be off on the race, we will not let them do it. We will do the same. No one would have any objection in the least and the best crew would win."

The Modocs are very anxious to win the race and retain possession of the Fauns Cup. They sent on recently for Cooper, their coach, and he is now out training with the crew every evening. The local aquatic fraternity are very anxious to know just when the Modocs will be ready to race.
